

Ethan Hagg Recommends....

Ungifted

Author: Gordon Korman

Genre: Humor and science fiction.

Where you can find it:

Mrs. Belotes library. Maybe the school library.

I recommend the book

Ungifted to someone who likes a funny, scientific, weird, and awesome book. The book is about a trouble maker named

Donnie who doesn't get good grades but after he does something terrible, that he would get caught and in huge trouble for, he unexpectedly gets invited to the school where the smart kids go. Then he makes it to robotics class in the school and him and his classmates make a awesome robot they are going to use to win the robotics competition. Will Donovan last in the new school, or is he not smart enough? Will him and his robotics team win the competition? Will Donovan soon get caught for the terrible thing he has done? Well, There are so many more Interesting questions to be asked and answered in this hilarious book. There's also so much to it to add on. So you better read it to find out, or you will be missing out.
