Fiction, Children's literature

I recommend this book for someone who has a brother or sister with special needs. Also somebody that likes a bit of humor. This book was found in the library.

In this book, twelve-year old Catherine just a normal, everyday life. But since she has an autistic brother, thats hard for her. She is also having problems with the girl next door who just moved in. Soon after she talks with her a bit, Catherine realizes that she isn't all that she seems.

Will Catherine finally get a normal life? Will she find a new friend that will suit her liking? Read "Rules" to find out!
