

Kyra S Recommends...

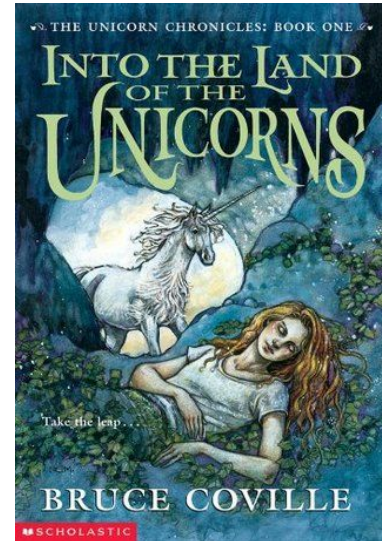

Into the Land of the Unicorns

Bruce Coville

Fantasy

I recommend this book for people who like mythical creatures and adventure. This book was found in the library.

In this book, a teenager named Cara is in a town shopping with her grandmother. Her mother and father died a few years ago, so all she has is her grandmother. Then this mysterious person starts following them. Her grandmother reacts, taking Cara to a top of a tower. She gives her a necklace that the grandmother never lets anybody have. She tells her that they are in trouble so she has to take the necklace to the top of the tower say some specific words, count to 10, then jump off. Cara thinks this is crazy but she agrees because it's an emergency. When Cara is at the top, she hears her grandmother yelling something at the pursuer. Her voice suddenly stops, indicating that something happened to her. As she starts count and saying the words, she hears footsteps coming. Finally, she has counted to 10, saying the words as well. She jumps off. Suddenly a portal comes out of nowhere and she plummets into it. She then finds herself in the land of the unicorns. Will she find a way out? Will she befriend some unknown creatures on her journey? Read the book to find out.
